The Seasons of Life

Carmen Mahlum

Carmen Mahlum was born on the island of Jamaica and grew up in Queens, New York. Along with her husband, Larry, she served in Mali, West Africa for 5 years and Madagascar for 5 years. Carmen's focus was on the needs of the local women, and she initiated successful self-help programs for them. They also served in Haiti, Costa Rica and Central America, where she developed a work/study program providing jobs for needy students, thus enabling them to continue their education. Since 2001, her husband has served as pastor in the La Crosse district. They have four sons.

Carmen is presently the Asst. Director of Inclusion & Diversity at Winona State University. She is passionate about leading women to the healing fountain, where tired, discouraged, fearful, doubting, and wounded hearts can find encouragement, affirmation, joy, and peace.
